DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.
2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11, 13-15 and 21-22, have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 11, 13-15 and 21-22, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sheynblat et al. (US Pub. 2002/0171581).

Regarding claim 1, Sheynblat et al. disclose a radio communication system comprising:

a communication terminal (fig.4); and a service center connected to said communication terminal via a radio channel

(see par.0113);

Wherein said communication terminal comprises:

mail creation means for creating an electronic mail (see par.0113);

detecting means for detecting a current position of the communication device (see par.060); and transmission means for attaching position information indicating the current position detected by the detecting means to the electronic mail and transmitting the electronic mail with the position information attached thereto to the service center (see par.0127, 0113), and wherein said service center comprises:

storing means for storing regional image information specific to positions of the terminal, said regional image information comprising images, specific to the positions of the terminal (see ;

reading means for reading from said storing means the regional image information, comprising at least one of the images, corresponding to the position information attached to the electronic mail and attaching the regional image information to the electronic mail (see par.0113, 0123; and means for transmitting the electronic mail with the regional image information attached thereto (see par.0113, 0123).

Regarding claim 15, Sheynblat et al. disclose storing means comprises a rewritable memory and means for writing externally supplied information to said rewritable memory (see par.0108, page 13 lines 14-17).

Regarding claims 13 and 22, Sheynblat et al. disclose storing means stores at least one of scenic images of areas (see par.0118), logo marks of areas, and advertisement images corresponding to areas.

Art Unit: 2684

Regarding claim 14, Sheynblat et al. disclose said storing means comprises a read-only memory (see par.0115, 0118, "server" is inherently including read-only memory).

Regarding claim 15, Sheynblat et al. disclose storing means comprises a rewritable memory and means for writing externally supplied information to said rewritable memory (see par.0115, 0118, "server" is inherently including rewritable memory).

Regarding claim 21, Sheynblat et al. disclose receiving means for receiving electronic mail with image information attached thereto which is transmitted from another device (see par.0113); and Displaying means for displaying the received electronic mail and the received image information with the received image information superimposed on a part of the receive electronic mail (see par.055).
